Headteacher: Mr Andrew Hammond

17th March 2017

Dear Parents/Carers,

I am writing to you today to confirm that, as you know, Andrew Hammond will be leaving as Headteacher of Glemsford Primary Academy on Friday 31st March.

I am sure you will join me in wishing Andrew well and thanking him for his commitment and enthusiasm to our great school.

It is with great delight that we will be welcoming Ben Jeffery as our new Headteacher from 1st July.

Ben is currently a vice-principal of Great Heath Academy in Mildenhall and comes to Glemsford with great experience and a strong desire to continue all the positive work and ensure our children get the best possible education.

In the interim few months, Samuel Ward Academy will put in place leadership support to allow Mr Scott, Deputy Headteacher, to focus on Year 6 at this key time of year. Mrs. Stalker, Deputy Headteacher at Churchill School is already supporting each week.

Further details on this will be announced shortly and we will of course keep you fully informed. Mr Jeffery will be visiting the school throughout June and there will be plenty of opportunities to meet him and give him a warm Glemsford welcome.

Please be assured that everyone connected to Glemsford Primary Academy, along with Samuel Ward Academy Trust, will be working hard to ensure there is a smooth transition for pupils, staff and parents alike during this period.

Thank you, as ever, for your support.

Claire Martin
Chair of Governors
